

People throng to RHB's 'site-visit' endeavour

Makaan ki keemat ka 10% dijiye, Grah Pravesh kijiye

Shivendra Parmar

Jaipur: With the gloom of Coronavirus affecting morale and even the routine working in the offices of state government, Rajasthan Housing Board has pulled out yet another surprise. Even before the registration for its most 'simplistic' housing scheme could start, hordes of people rushed to the board's site on Saturday and Sunday for a 'site-visit' organised by the RHB. The board's recent initiative of handing over the keys to a house at just 10 per cent of its sale price while the remaining amount be paid in 156 EMIs over 13 years, has struck a note with people and the craze was apparent for past two days.

People thronged the site during the site visit organised by RHB.

For the three sites of the board - Gomti, Ganga and Pratap Apartments, dozens of people availed the board's special arrangements for site visit. "The lockdown has made it clear to people how important it is to own a home. Keeping this in mind, UDH Minister Shanti Dhariwal had launched the 'Home for all' scheme on May 27. Due to the houses being located at prime location and facilities like running water, road, electricity being provided, the properties have gar- nered peoples' interest. Thus the scheme was named 'makaan ka 10% dijiye, Grah Pravesh kijiye'," said Pawan Arora, Commissioner, RHB.

Notably, anyone can register themselves for the bidding procedure and submit their bid proposal from Monday to 4 pm every Wednesday. The proposals will be opened at 4.30 Pm and houses will be allotted. Registrations are starting from today and actual submission of bids will start from next Monday i.e. June 8.